Thursday 27 March 2014

The participants arrived in Tripolis .

Friday 28 March 2014

-The meeting started with the welcoming speech of president of organisation Ms .Matina Paraschou and the presentation. She spoke for the Arcadia area and gave some information of the town of Tripolis.

- The Romanian coordinator, Nicoleta Loghin gave a speech about what have been done so far and what will be done

- The coordinator of Greece project talked about the programme of the last meeting.

The Greek partner and the creator of Digital Literacy Course , Mrs. Christina Benopoulou presented the final version of the manual of Digital literacy. She explain in detail every step of D.L and answered all questions about it. Before the coffee break, all participants had the chance to visit the class of elderly students and chat with them.

We visited the CITY HALL and we had the opportunity to meet the Mayor of TRIPOLIS town and to talk with him about local and European subjects. The Mayor explained to us how the city's authorities support initiatives which have to do with European educational programs

After the break the Turkish partner's presented the final version of our common portfolio of the guide on good practices in arts and handcrafts. The presentation was made by Mrs Asli Akdemir because the Turkey coordinator Mesut Arabacıoğlu couldn't join us because of a serious health problem of his relative. The Turkish partner explained to us about the title: "MY PAST IS MY FUTURE"-why they choose it and which is its usefulness. Also she explained that NICOLETTA LONGIN the Romanian coordinator, chose the MOTIVO which is decorated. She talked about the aims of the portfolio and explained that it includes the research about the difference between young and elderly people as Italian partners introduced this research in HEARTS PROJECT. Finally, she presented the two workshops of the Turkey team. In this meeting we had the opportunity to meet the new director of the school Mr. Mehmet Bayir who was very interested in the project. First we visited a pastry lab workshop. All partners had the opportunity to wear special professional aprons and uniforms and took part in the preparation of traditional Greek sweets. Mrs Evagelia Anargyrou and her daughter Biki Anargyrou and all the team of "XARAS" PASTRY LAB, with pleasure showed us the secrets of making a Greek traditional pastry made of phyllo, sugar, walnuts and honey. At the end all partners got a sweet treat.

- The next step was the lunch in the city centre. All the partners had a great time while tasting some traditional Greek food.

After lunch we walked to the meeting place and we had the chance to go sightseeing of the city.

- In the meeting place we continued the presentations. The first presentation was from the Italian partner, Dr. Maria Cristina Turola, responsible for the elaboration of the results of our common research on the quality of life. Dr. M.C. Turola presented the final version with the final results elaborated by her and underlined the possibility to publish our common

- research in a scientific journal as the work can meet all the premises and the prerequisites to be published.

Ms Maria Kavouri, also from AIMNetwork, presented us a new product an “e-learning DIGITAL PLATFORM”. This product was elaborated by the young people of “NETWORK REVOLUTION ” enterprise, who cooperate with AIMNetwork in ICT issues. She explained to us that the platform is like a website and gives the possibility for synchronous and asynchronous teaching useful for distance e-learning. Everyone can get an account and can see what the teacher has uploaded (asynchronous learning) through the digital blackboard is possible to have a synchronous face to face classroom. Then Mrs.Kavouri gave us some examples about the platform and explain its facilities. Consequently the Italian partners announced a proposal for a new project, under the Erasmus + programme, entitled “ICT in HEARTS” which hopefully, will be the sequel of “HEARTS”.

The Romanian partner and the workshop of all countries.

The Romanian coordinator explained about the workshop of painting eggs, a very interesting workshop in the area of Bucovina. These eggs are painted not only for Easter but for decoration as decorated items. The members of Bucovina Guides took part in this workshop and with the guidance of the teacher, they created painting eggs.

Also show us the workshop of Italian partners, garden construction, which was very interesting and the Greek partner's workshop was a “Ceramic” workshop and a “Taste and Photography” workshop.

- All partners presented the dissemination of the project and what they have done in their countries and what kind of disseminations they did.
- The Romanian partner firstly, they show us the dissemination reports. As far as the Romanian partner gave a presentation about the dissemination of the project (to be prepared a list of multimedia materials) and the workshop of all partner countries. Secondly, explain the evaluation of the internal staff involved in the mobility's and about the evaluation of the materials created in the frame of the project.

After the presentation in the meeting place, two visits took place

- First visit was at the Athlete Club of Tripolis where we had a discussion with the president of the local athletic team and we discuss about a future cooperation of the countries who were involved in this project based on the Erasmus Sports – this is something new, and the leader of this, the European Union, gives a lot of importance.
- Second visit was at the “Folk Art Museum”, a very interesting place and the partners had the chance to see old objects such as tools, household objects, paper documents, handmade beads etc.
- Later on that night we had dinner at a local traditional restaurant with live music band and the Mayor of the city was honored us with his presence.

Saturday 29 March 2014

In the second day of the meeting the coordinators discussed about the future activities. The discussion was focused on internal and external evaluation and the Romanian coordinators explained us how can this evaluation can be done and how the results can be exported. We also discussed about of the progress of the program “Hearts” and talked about partners’ tasks.

Excursion to Mycenae - A GREAT HISTORICAL PLACE

http://odysseus.culture.gr/h/3/gh351.jsp?obj_id=2573

“Visit Mycenae! Going up the Mycenae hill, you will arrive at the Mycenaean monumental gate of the fortification wall, the Lions Gate. Within the fortification wall, you will see the Palace of Mycenae and the underground water container, which was connected with natural sources in the area through an underground aqueduct. Do not forget to have your flashlight with you! At the bottom of the hill, you can visit the Archaeological Museum of Mycenae. Within easy reach, there lies the tomb of Agamemnon, which is still called the tomb of Agamemnon, even though it is now known that it does not belong to the legendary king of Mycenae, as people formerly believed. “

A tourist guide talked to us about the history of the place and we visit the archaeological museum which had unique exhibits
