The next step was the lunch in the city centre. All partners had a great time while tasting some traditional greek food. After lunch we walked to the meeting place and we had the chance to go sightseeing of the city.

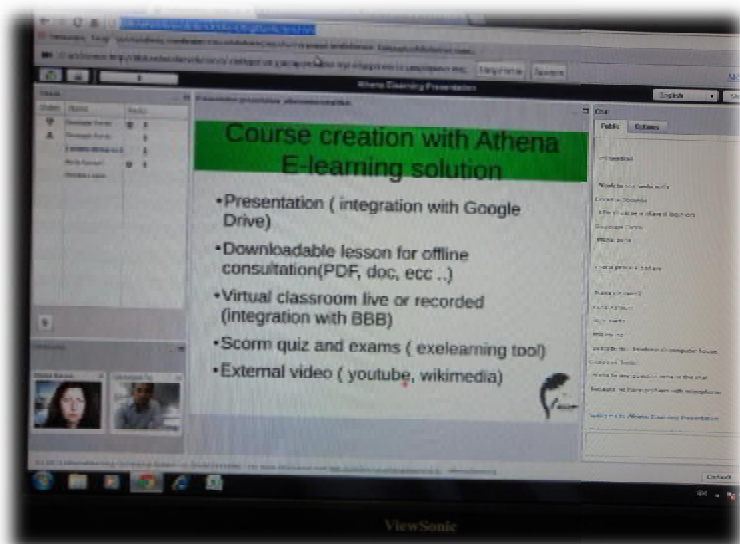

In the meeting place we continued the presentations. The first presentation was from the Italian partner, Mr Giuseppe Torrisi from "NETWORK REVOLUTION " cooperating with AIMNetwork. He presented us a new product, an "e-learning DIGITAL PLATFORM, "ATHENA E-LARNING". This product was elaborated by "NETWORK REVOLUTION " enterprise, who cooperate with AIMNetwork in ICT issues. He explained to us that the platform of Athena e-learning is like a website and gives the possibility for synchronous and asynchronus teaching useful for distance e-learning. Everyone can get an account and can see what the teacher has uploaded (asynchronus learning) through the digital blackboard is possible to have a sychronus face to face classroom.

Then Ms. Luciana De Marco board member of AIMNetwork, explains very analytically the two steps of their open source solution of Athena E-learning and how work e-learning platform Moodle. Then, she gave us some examples about the platform and explains its facilities. Consequently, the Italian partners explained to us how the new platform will be used and combined with the new project, under the Erasmus + programe, entitled "ICT in HEARTS" which hopefully, will be the sequel of "HEARTS".

The audience of the meeting was made from Greek and Italian partners in face to face and other partners connected via e-learning platform. From Romania attended the meeting Ms. NicoletaLoghin, the coordinator of whole project and from Turkey Mesut Arabacioglu, the contact person of the Turkish partner and also from Italy, Ms. Maria Kavouri, looking for testing the e-learning platform and exchange ideas.

After the presentation in the meeting place, two visits took place

- First visit was at the Athlete Club of Tripolis where we had a discussion with the president of the local athletic team and we discuss about a future cooperation of the countries who were involved in this project based on the Erasmus Sports – this is something new, and the leader of this, the European Union, gives a lot of importance.
- Second visit was at the “Folk Art Museum”, a very interesting place and the partners had the chance to see old objects such as tools, household objects, paper documents, handmade beads etc.
- Later on that night we had dinner at a local traditional restaurant with typical Greek food.

Thursday 29 March 2014

In the second day of the meeting the coordinators discussed about the future activities.

All partners – staff filled the evaluation report of the internal staff involved in the last meeting

The discussion was focused on internal and external evaluation and the Greek coordinator explained how this evaluation can be done. We also discussed about of the progress of the program “HEARTS” and talked about partners’ tasks.

"Visit Mycenae! Going up the Mycenae hill, you will arrive at the Mycenaean monumental gate of the fortification wall, the Lions Gate. Within the fortification wall, you will see the Palace of Mycenae and the underground water container, which was connected with natural sources in the area through an underground aqueduct. Do not forget to have your flashlight with you! At the bottom of the hill, you can visit the Archaeological Museum of Mycenae. Within easy reach, there lies the tomb of Agamemnon, which is still called the tomb of Agamemnon, even though it is now known that it does not belong to the legendary king of Mycenae, as people formerly believed.
