HEARTS - INTERNAL EVALUATION

– GLOBAL REPORT –

The Internal Evaluation form was filled by 16 people, the association's staff members:

- Bucovina Guides: 4 people;
- Bolu Halkin Egitimini Gelistirme ve Destekleme Dernegi: 6 people;
- AIM Network: 3 people;
- Computer House: 3 people;

Question 1: Organization skills improvement

Range of answers from 4 (much) to 5 (very much), average 4,62.

All the staff members believe that the HEARTS project has increased the organization's skills, at a level between much and very much.

Comments:

- Ø Bucovina Guides. The association improved a lot over the project period as it gained new and valuable partners and friends. Being its first project of this kind, the organization had a lot to learn through the organization of meetings, disseminations or mobility. We developed our skills in managing a project from the implementation stage to the outcome.
- Ø Bolu Halkin Eđitimini Geliřtirme Ve Destekleme Derneđi. This is the first experience of our association: the staff in our organization has improved their language, social and communication skills and got experienced in terms of the European Union process: we learned how to implement a European project and we discussed about the project in cooperation with the partner countries . We learned new cultures and new life styles because Turkey is different from most of the European countries. Our organization had the chance to get experienced about how to bring together the young and elderly people and provide them to communicate with each other, and we had ideas and opinions about the possibility for senior education and the dialogue between the elderly and young people living in the partner countries. Furthermore, the project contributed to the European dimension of our association.
- Ø AIM Network. Being at the beginners of her life, our organization hadn't great competences about meeting organization, products, procedures. We have gained in experience and expertise. The organization was advantaged of this project in different fields:
 - 1) the organization of a meeting with all the issues that it concerns,
 - 2) the relationship with the partners;
 - 3) the benefits of the cooperation for the production of the outputs.
 - 4) the use of English language, as we had to communicate with partners using this work language.
- Ø Computer House. From our staff point of view the organization improved its skills as follows: through this project we met new partners and new cultures and we had the chance to exchange ideas; we learned a lot especially about how to work in teams and get the best output from this team work. Our organization had the opportunity to exchange good practices with the other partners and to set bases for future cooperation. It is absolutely understood that projects such the one we were involved, besides the difficulties, has only advantages and positive results.

Question 2: Personal skills improvement

Range of answers from 4 (much) to 5 (very much), average 4,56.

All the staff members believe that the HEARTS project has increased their personal skills, at a level from much and very much.

Comments:

- Ø Bucovina Guides. In personal opinions, the project helped to develop existing skills but also to gain new ones: learn how to better interact and communicate with new cultures and personalities; work together with people from diverse cultural backgrounds; to be flexible and understanding; gain knowledge in researching, collecting data and implementing a questionnaire; gain more trust in speaking in English; improve public speaking abilities considerably. And, last but not the least, to gain a valuable experience in managing groups of people and large amounts of money.
- Ø Bolu Halkin Eğitimini Geliştirme Ve Destekleme Derneği. This project gave to all us a lot of opportunities: working together with adult and young people at home and in Europe; sharing our experience, skills and knowledge between each other; learning possibilities despite the age; learning about traditions and lifestyles of people from different cultures; improving communication skills with everyone. We saw how things are made in international level, and have learnt a lot about the details of how to deal with all this process, achieving an “European dimension”. English knowledge improved by trying to communicate with the new friends; we got the courage to make a presentation and took the responsibility of a group of people in a foreign country.
- Ø AIM Network. In the staff opinion, this project provided a lot of improvement: languages skills, namely English but also something in other countries languages; research and working with the questionnaires and reports; relationships with different cultures; organizational competence; interacting skills; a more defined vision of the world around us and on Romanian and Turkish language skills through the travels to Romania and some ideas for further projects.
- Ø Computer House. The staff believe they improved their personal skills in: team work; collecting data through questionnaires and analysis of results; ; working together aiming to final products; contacts with European partners; communication with people of different cultures; improving of personal English vocabulary; public speaking.

Question 3: mobility's support

15 people answered “yes”, 1 person answered “maybe”.

Comments:

- Ø Bucovina Guides. All the mobilities had a great time while travelling to Italy, Greece or Turkey and judging by the feedback received; they had great things to learn as well. Since for some of them was the first time abroad, the experience was priceless. The mobilities, in the staff opinion, were well-organized and, judging by all the testimonials, people were very satisfied with everything they experienced. The project supported the mobilities, as everybody from Romania felt treated special and this is due to the great hospitality showed to us by our partners .

- Ø Bolu Halkin Eğitimi Geliştirme Ve Destekleme Derneği. People felt financially and personally supported by the project, and they were fully satisfied for this participation; during the implementation of the project, they gained the self-confidence to get in contact with people from different cultures and now they felt themselves more understandable, passionate and extrovert when they work together with a group of people.
- Ø AIM Network. The mobilities were well organized and completely supported from the project; all partners who were involved in them were fully satisfied.
- Ø Computer House. The mobilities were well organized and all partners who were involved in them were pleased; we think that mobilities are important for the correct completion of the project; furthermore, they are the exciting part of the project for the chance to meet different countries and cultures and at the same time work with our partners on our issues.

Question 4: Use of the project products/ results in the future

12 people answered “yes”, 4 of them answered “maybe”: in most people there is an intention to use the products of the project for their own work or for further initiatives.

Comments:

- Ø Romanian group thinks that the outcome of this project is very important and plan to use the digital literacy manual for the elderly people that will be joining the association from now on.
- Ø Turkish group highlights that, during the implementation, the project gained valuable information and views about how to keep alive the heritage and to transform this value to new generation, through an intergenerational dialogue. The products are good to disseminate in every field. These content, collected in the brochure, digital literacy manual and newsletters are ready for dissemination to people and the authority, and for use in the associations/organizations and other workplaces. Teachers working with adults believe that project products may be a good guide in finding the best teaching styles, considering the importance of the relationship among different aged students. The products are especially good for people who are new to these international activities for lifelong learning. We all should borrow the activities and the facilities which we saw in partners. The results and products of this project can also be a steady base on which to build up a new, further project.
- Ø The Italian group would like to use the outputs firstly into the association, for explaining how is possible to cooperate between different countries; they can also be very useful in several contexts of their background, mainly in social inclusion area, and in the work area.
- Ø The Greek group intends to use the Digital Literacy Manual – after translation in domestic language - in the future, for their adult education and their students, especially for elderly students.

Question 5: Usefulness of innovative ICT tools

Range of answers from 4 (much) to 5 (very much), average 4,62: no doubt about the usefulness of these instruments.

Comments:

- Ø Bucovina Guides. The innovative use of ICT is assumed as useful/essential/indispensable: it can facilitate the communication between the partners, enables people to gather information that would otherwise be difficult or even impossible to obtain, provide both the resources and the pedagogical framework for enabling people to become more efficient in the process of independent learning.
- Ø Bolu Halkin Eğitimi Geliştirme Ve Destekleme Derneği. The ICT tools was very useful so that we could learn how to use different social media tools and platform for better communication. From the very beginning of the project, we discussed how to start with the project, which activities to do, how to disseminate the project and the products by the way of ICT tools. As ICT tools support the lifelong learning, it can be the best way to improve yourself with its potential for distance learning. The project has created us a big opportunity to improve our ICT skills.
- Ø AIM Network. During the lifetime of the project we learned to use different ICT tools in order to improve the communication between partners, the visibility of the project, the dissemination and exploitation. These tools will be useful also for our work in the organization and for our personal life. ICT tools are important for information and social life, to improve communication within social groups, to better know their rights and avoid marginalization.
- Ø Computer House. ICT tools connect people and knowledge, allow to exchange information and ideas; with ICT tools all can happen fast and simple. Definitely it helped us in communication with our partners, in order to discover more innovating ideas and materialize them.

Question 6: Personal social skills/knowledge improvement

Range of answers from 3 (much) to 5 (very much), average 4,5.

Question 7: Success achieved from partnership

Range of answers from 4 (much) to 5 (very much), average 4,69.

Questions 6 and 7 provided only a quantitative self-evaluation, without comments.

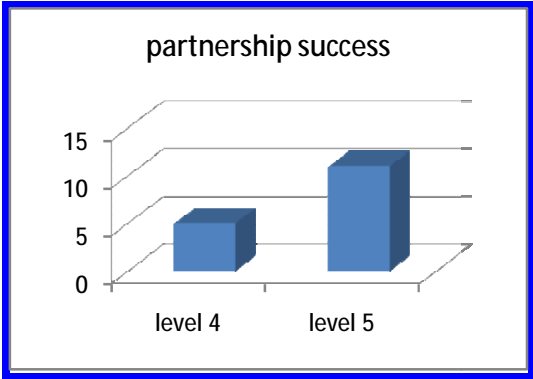

Question 8: Conclusions & Recommendations

- Ø Bucovina Guides. The project was a great opportunity to develop team working skills for all the partners and it was a very useful tool in connecting people with the same interests, who created a very productive partnership. Each partner contributed to the development of the project and everybody was satisfied and benefited from the results.
- Ø Bolu Halkin Eğitimi Geliştirme Ve Destekleme Derneği. The project process was very useful in learning how to apply for a project, how to implement and to produce new products and information; all the participants got the chance to improve their socio-cultural, intercultural interaction and language skills. This project:
 - has improved both me and my organization in terms of communication and social skills from a global aspect;
 - provided us to see different cultures and make new friends from all over the world, and we learned also new ideas and values from different people and partner countries;
 - has reinforced us all to create common European identity values as individuals;
 - had given significant results about the importance of remembering the heritage and the status of our elderly people in the society;We hope to take advantage of the project outcomes in a future cooperation.

- Ø AIM Network. According to us the partnership was successful giving opportunities for growing and learning and possibly continuing to do projects. Sometimes the communication between the partners was weak, in the initial phase, but it improved and this wasn't more an obstacle when we decided to continue HEARTS and implement its products through a further ERASMUS + project. We hope that this partnership can continue.
- Ø Computer House. Through this project we manage to communicate and exchange ideas and practices between partners. We worked as a team in order to accomplish our goals and have a fine product. We practice our English language and our public speech. We hope in a future cooperation.

Question 1: 4,4,5,4,5,4

Comments:

- This is the first experience of our association in European projects. As an association, we learned how to implement a European project, we learned new cultures and new life styles because Turkey is different from most of the European countries. Also the project contributed to the European dimension of our association.
- Our organization had the chance to get experienced about how to bring together the young and elderly people and provide them to communicate with each other.
- The staff in our organization has improved their language, social and communication skills and got experienced in terms of the European Union process.
- I was not fully aware of the possibilities of lifelong learning.
- This has been my first opportunity to work in such an international organisation. Also it has been good for me to become aware of the possibilities for senior education.
- This project contributed to our association a lot because this is our first project. We discussed about the project in cooperation with the partner countries and we had ideas and opinions about the dialogue between the elderly and young people living in the partner countries.

Question 2: 4,5,5,4,5,5

Comments:

- This project gave me the opportunity of working together with adult and young people at home and in Europe and also of sharing our experience, skills and knowledge between each other. Also it added me a European dimension and vision on producing new projects.
- As an inexperienced person for a EU project I have learnt a lot about the details of how to deal with all this process. Took the responsibility of a group of people in a foreign country. Improved my communication skills with everyone no matter what the age, gender and nation is. Got the courage to make a presentation before the people in such an important project.
- I was able to come together with lots of people from different cultures and learn about their traditions, lifestyles. I could improve my English by trying to communicate with the new friends whom I met in the process of this project.
- I found out new ways to improve my personal development skills. I realized that learning is always possible despite my age.
- This has been a very new experience for me to see how things are made in international level. From now on I will keep on following the principles I caught from the project.

- This project has really improved my personal development very much. I saw that the old people above 60 have done good works for themselves and the community. They try to learn about computing, ceramic works, wood craft etc.

Question 3: Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes,

Comments:

- I was fully satisfied and supported during the implementation of the project
- Before taking part in this project I was a little shy and timid to get in contact with the people whom I don't know, but now I feel myself safe, comfortable and extrovert enough to communicate with everyone in any case.
- I gained the self-confidence to get in contact with people from different cultures. I have learnt to be more understandable and passionate towards people while working together with a group of people.

This project has some considerable results about the young and elderly people and as a teacher working with adults these results may be a good guide for me to find the best teaching styles considering the importance of the relationship between my different aged students. And these results can also be a steady base as reasons to build up a new project.

Question 1 : 4,4,5

Comments

- Our organization being at the beginners of her life was advantaged of this project in different fields:
 - 1)the organization of a meeting with all the issues that it concerns,
 - 2)the relationship with the partners;
 - 3)the benefits of the cooperation for the production of the outputs.
- We are a „young” association and we hadn’t great competences about meeting organization, products, procedures. We have gained in experience and expertise
- I think that our organisation’s skills were improved especially in English language skills as we had to communicate with our partners and the work language is English. We also become experienced in meetings organisations as well as travelling.

Question 2: 5,4,4

- Personally I improved my English language skills as well as some linguistic skills on Romanian and Turkish language skills through the travels to Romania and Turkey. Secondly I developed some skills on research, working with questionnaire as well as evaluation of reports;
- Use of a foreign language; relations with different cultures; a closer look at the world around us some ideas for further projects;
- My English language and organizational skills were improved and also my professionalism on interacting with partners.

Question 3 : Maybe, Yes, Yes

As we had to participate in the meeting in different countries I enjoyed to do it. I think that all mobilities were supported from the project.

Question 4: Yes, Yes, Yes

- I would like to use the outputs firstly for our association for explaining how is possible to cooperate between different countries;
- I think that they can be very useful in several contexts in our background, mainly in social inclusion area;
- I will use them at my work as well as in the association.

Question 5: 5,5,5

- Information, social life, to improve communication within social groups, to better know their rights, to avoid marginalization;
- During the lifetime of the project we learned to use different ICT tools in order to improve the communication between partners, the visibility of the project , the dissemination and exploitation. These tools will be useful also for our work in our organization and personal life;

- As ICT consultant I think that all beneficiaries will be advantaged from the use of that new tools.

Question 6: 3, 5, 5

Question 7: 5, 4, 4

8: Conclusions.

- According to me the partnership was successful giving the opportunity to some people for growing and learning and possibly continuing to do projects. I think that the communication between the partners sometimes was weak but this wasn't an obstacle when we decided to continue HEARTS and implement its products through another ERASMUS + project.
- I hope that the new HEARTS project will be approved and this partnership can continue.
